

Dr. Sharon Gordon Presented the 2019 Alan J. Davis / SCADA Achievement Award

Dr. Sharon Gordon received the Alan J. Davis / SCADA Achievement Award during the Dentsply Sirona hosted Awards Program conducted during Dentsply Sirona Student Competition for Advancing Dental Research and its Application (SCADA) 60th Awards Ceremony at the 48th Annual Meeting of the American Association for Dental Research (AADR) and the 43rd Annual Meeting of the Canadian Association for Dental Research. The program was held on June 19th at Fairmont Vancouver Hotel in Vancouver British Columbia, Canada.

Dr. Sharon Gordon (center) accepts the 2019 Alan J. Davis /SCADA Award from Dr. Kelton Stewart, SCADA Past President (left) and Dr. Teresa Dolan, VP and Chief Clinical Officer at Dentsply Sirona (right).

Dr. Sharon Gordon is the Dean of the University of Connecticut, School of Dental Medicine. For more than two decades —at National Institutes for Health, at the University of Maryland and at East Carolina University — Dr. Gordon worked tirelessly to create innovative dental curricula, research training, and career development, with an emphasis on clinical and translational science. She is admired for her passion for engaging dental students in research, serving as a faculty mentor and advisor, as a National Faculty Advisor for the National Student Research Group of the American Association of Dental Research, and with the Student Competition for Advancing Dental Research and its Application (SCADA).

To learn more about SCADA and this year's award recipients, visit www.scadaresearch.org.