

2008 UK BDA/DENTSPLY Student Clinician Update – Richard Carr

Richard Carr was a 2008 UK BDA/DENTSPLY Student Clinician Program participant. Since then he has continued to pursue his dental degree at Cardiff University School of Dentistry in Wales, United Kingdom, and is now in his final year, graduating in June.

During his final year at Cardiff, Carr has involved himself with the universities reparative dentistry research group conducting research in the area of pulp tissue responses to restorative resins.

Following his graduation in June, Carr will continue his education in UK dental foundation training. For the first year of the program, Carr will participate in vocational training in general practice, in his second year he will serve as a SHO in Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery.
